Question Asked:

The Chair has just given me the 'I'm running out of time'. But maybe something on notice that you might like to address: we heard in the floods about, with climate change and flood events and the like, retrofitting current buildings. So it might be raising up the air-conditioning system that sits on the ground at my house and in schools and hospitals – retrofitting. Could you think of some examples that you could give to us – and it could be on notice – about retrofitting to support that sort of infrastructure?
