Good afternoon,

I have many friends who live in rural Victoria. They and along with me want to know why the State Labor Government is determine to wreck this crucial volunteer group.

What problems does this government have with having 60,000 members who work for nothing to assist their towns. I moved to NSW 10 years and I joined straight away with SES. At the first meeting I was greeted as if I was family. Within the next 1 hour, I was drilled as to what fire starts. The fire triangle. 1) Fire 2) Oxygen and 3) Fuel. Then the basics of how the hoses work. From how to derive water from lakes, lakes and dams. Also videos on our duties.

As the weeks went past I became somewhat knowledgeable on the fire truck.

Our duties were from fires to car accidents.

The town was appreciative of knowing we were just a phone call to attend any problems. The most important thing for the town how close we were to our town and surrounding towns.

This is what the CFA meanings to the towns. Heart and souls. This can never be stopped as I feel the whole rural towns in Victoria need.

Daniel Andrews read this and back away and leave the CFA alone.
