To whom it may concern,
I have been a professional career fire fighter for 29 1/2 years. I pose the question. How quick do you want an Emergency Service work to your emergency? Weather your house is on fire, a knife at your throat or having a heart attack. I wish to remind the parliament of the Linton Fires that claimed 5 volunteers. They were trying to save the bush. After the fire the UFU pushed for the volunteers to get better training, equipment, uniform, water spray protection, communication and the list goes on. This standard already existed with career fire staff. And the bonus with career staff is they do Emergency medical response 24/7
