I was asked for my opinion about the CFA fiasco as a citizen of victoria.

As I said politically I have NO axe to grind what so ever.

I just feel the CFA which everyone reports is an excellent organisation is getting a raw deal in a union manipulation.

Good Afternoon Mr Cameron,

Thank you for your correspondence and interest in the work of the Fire Services Bill Select Committee. Your contribution is very much appreciated.

The Committee requires additional details in order to consider this as a submission. Please provide either a contact telephone number or a mailing address.

Once we receive that information your submission will be a public submission to the Committee's Inquiry into the Firefighters' Presumptive Rights Compensation and Fire Services Legislation Amendment (Reform) Bill 2017. Please note that your submission may be published on the Committee's website during the course of the Inquiry (your contact details will not be published).

If you are interested in receiving updates on the progress of the Inquiry, please email news@parliament.vic.gov.au and request Fire Services Bill Inquiry updates.

Kind regards

Kirra Vanzetti

Leave the CFA alone.

To most people in Victoria this is only a Union Bashing programme that is going on.

We have some of the best people in the CFA who honestly do not want to be union dictated and organised.

Like in the City the other the CFMEU acting like a lot of anarchists.

That is my opinion.

I have no axe to grind only I was taught if it works leave it alone and get on with something more important that needs to be done.
Peter Cameron
