Subject Fire Services Reform

To the Honourable Ministers and Committee members,

I want to simply submit that is unfair and irresponsible of a government, not to expand a professional and urbanised fire service to protect the expanding metropolitan area. A glaring example is that if you live on one side of a road, you can have a heart attack and get EMR trained fire fighters to your aide in minutes whereas on the other side you are left to wait for an Ambulance that may get there too late. This is in the same suburb, that is the same density either side. How would you feel if it was your family member who fell victim to this situation?

Thank you for your consideration,

Leading Fire Fighter Derek Dewhurst
