MEDIA RELEASE

Autism services inquiry hears from people living with autism

The Victorian Parliament's Family and Community Development Committee will hear from a range of people living with Autism Spectrum Disorder at a public hearing on Monday 10 October.

The public hearing will be held from 10:30 am to 4:15 pm in Meeting Room G7 at 55 St Andrews Place, East Melbourne.

People with Autism Spectrum Disorder, parents and carers will present their views on the adequacy of services provided by the Commonwealth, State and local governments.

The Department of Education and Training will also present evidence to the Committee, with education one of the key issues being discussed during the inquiry.

The Committee has received more than 140 submissions on services for people with Autism Spectrum Disorder.

The public hearing schedule and submissions are available from the Committee's website.
