Sexual Abuse Counselling and Prevention Program

Children and young people up to 18 years of age who have engaged in harmful sexual behaviours

1. Young people who have engaged in harmful sexual behaviours need early, specialist support

2. Education is critical to preventing sexual offences from occurring

Stand Up! program outcomes

- The concept of grooming was not known 'at all' by 48% of students prior to the sessions and afterwards 59% described themselves as 'very confident' about the concept
- Knowledge of sexual exploitation was no known at all by 28% of students prior, and 45% were 'very confident' about their knowledge post the program

"(Stand Up!) cleared up most of the fog around the topic" - Student

"Really interactive with ideas" - Student

"I enjoyed the activities and the fact that I learnt a lot" - Student

"Thank you so much. I never would have been able to have this conversation with my son without the program." - Parent

3. Education does not stop with students. We need to build systems, community agency and capacity.
