MEDIA RELEASE

Geelong hearing for community energy projects inquiry

The Economic, Education, Jobs and Skills Committee will be in Geelong on Monday 5 December to learn about innovation in energy storage technologies and hold a public hearing for the community energy projects inquiry.

The public hearing will be held from 12:00 pm to 2:15 pm at Deakin University Waurin Ponds Campus, Room na 1.417, Building NA, 75 Pigdons Road, Waurin Ponds.

Deakin University, the Renew Point Henry Consortium and Geelong Sustainability will present their views on community energy projects to the Committee.

The Committee is investigating the benefits of community ownership in the energy sector and ways to support both regional and metropolitan communities to develop local energy projects.

The schedule for the hearing and more details on the inquiry are available from the Committee's website.
