FAMILIES AND CHILDREN

1. Please outline how the My Health, Learning and Development Record ('the Green Book') is responsive to the needs of parents with disabilities, especially those with intellectual disabilities.

(Pages 10-11 of the Families and Children portfolio transcript)

All parents and carers, including those with a disability, are supported through the universal Maternal and Child Health (MCH) Service. The Enhanced MCH Service provides additional hours of support in the home to families who need further support, including parents or carers with a disability where needed. Through the Enhanced MCH Service MCH nurses work in partnership with other support services to provide families with parenting information and support.

The Department of Education and Training provides funding to the Victorian Interpreting and Translating Service which provides MCH nurses with Auslan translators for deaf/mute parents and carers. This enhances the accessibility of the MCH Service and the resources it provides.

On 19 February 2016 I launched a new version of the Child Health Record, the My Health, Learning and Development Record or 'Green Book'.

The My Health, Learning and Development Record includes more material designed to help new parents feel confident in their roles as their children's first, and most influential, teacher. The changes to the Green Book are designed to show parents and caregivers the many ways they can help children get off to a great start, enriching their early experiences and establishing healthy patterns for lifelong learning.

These messages are provided mainly in pictorial format, which is a significant move toward making the Green Book more accessible to all parents.

In addition to MCH consultations, the following parenting and support services are available to parents, including parents with disabilities:

- The Maternal and Child Health Line is a telephone support line available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and staffed by qualified MCH nurses.
- Parentline is a statewide telephone counselling service to parents and carers of children aged from birth to 18 years.
- Regional Parenting Services offer group education, information and intervention programs to parents.

The following services are also available to parents with disabilities:

- Family and Early Parenting Services offer a range of activities including outreach, assessment, case management, counselling, casework, in-home support, group work, brokerage and more. Priority access is given to families where risk indicators are present (including the presence of a mental illness, disability, substance abuse, family violence, social and economic disadvantage, involvement with Child Protection or the justice system, risk of family breakdown or teenage parents).
- The National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) will roll out across Victoria from 1 July 2016. Full implementation will take three years. The NDIS will consider the whole-of-life support needs of people with disability, including parents who have an intellectual disability. This whole-of-life support may include support to assist people with an intellectual disability in their parenting role.

2. Please advise, if available, participation rates of preschool children in the four-year-old program and how this compares with other states.

In 2015, Victoria's kindergarten participation rate was 98.1 per cent, up from 96.4 per cent in 2014.

There is no direct comparison between Victoria's kindergarten participation rate as calculated by Victoria and published in the State Budget papers and participation rates in other states and territories. However the preschool participation rates across Australia calculated for the annual Report on Government Services (RoGS) can be used to compare states and territories, noting that the RoGS methodology differs from that used by Victoria. The latest national comparison is published in Chapter 3 of the Report on Government Services 2016.

The Victorian preschool enrolment rate reported in the RoGS was 109.3 per cent in 2014, compared to a national rate of 95.1 per cent. Only the ACT had a higher enrolment rate (see table below).

Children aged 4 and 5 years enrolled in a preschool program in the year before full-time school 2014

Unit	NSW	Vic	QLD	WA	SA	Tas	ACT	NT	Aust
%	74.0	109.3	102.4	100.8	105.0	105.8	112.5	89.7	95.1

RoGS - Attachment 3A: table 3A.25

To calculate these rates, the number of four and five year olds enrolled in preschool in the year before school is divided by the estimated number of children aged four years in each jurisdiction. As a result the total proportion may exceed 100 per cent.

The RoGS rate is higher than the Victorian kindergarten participation rate for 2014 published in the 2015-16 Budget papers (96.4%) because the RoGS measure includes enrolment data from long day care services that do not offer a government funded kindergarten program. Differences in the age ranges of children counted in each measure also contribute to this difference.

3. With reference to the $50 million funded through the 2015-16 Budget to build or refurbish new kindergartens and children's centres, please provide a disaggregated list of these projects and their values.

(Pages 17-18 of the Families and Children portfolio transcript)

The Andrews Labor Government has committed $50 million over four years to develop modern and flexible early childhood facilities across Victoria. The 2016-17 Victorian State Budget builds on that significant investment, providing an additional $10 million for early childhood facilities. Through the Children's Facilities Capital Program, this will help ensure that every Victorian child has access to local, high-quality kindergarten and other early childhood services.

This $50 million commitment is being distributed over four years through four separate grant rounds. The first competitive round of applications was announced and allocated in 2015-16 and has now been completed.

4. Please advise:

- a. why there is a projected decrease in the 'daily average number of children in out-of-home care placements' measure, given the permanency reforms coming into place and the growing population; and
- b. what formula was used to arrive at such a precise figure of 8,159 for the 2016-17 target? (BP3 p. 243)

(Pages 20-21 of the Families and Children portfolio transcript)

- a. The out-of-home care system is experiencing significant growth. As is clear from the budget papers, the 2016-17 target does include additional placements above the 2015-16 target. The impact of the permanency reforms on demand for out-of-home places is yet to be observed.
- b. The 2016-17 target of 8,159 represents the upper limit of the department's demand forecasting model and is based on past trends data.

5. Please describe how implementation of recommendations of the Royal Commission into Family Violence can be enhanced through a more targeted approach to information sharing and use.

(Pages 22-3 of the Families and Children portfolio transcript)

Sharing information about family violence risk within and between organisations is crucial to keeping victims safe and responding to their support needs.

The Government recently announced the state-wide rollout of Risk Assessment and Management Panels, or RAMPs. The successful operation of RAMPs relies heavily on the sharing of information. A range of services will now be able to get together and share critical information to support the safety of women and children. In doing so, they will also hold perpetrators to account.

The Royal Commission found that complex and confusing legislation are barriers to information sharing in family violence cases and this fuels a risk-averse culture to information sharing. The government is undertaking a detailed review of these legislative barriers to information sharing to inform future reform, including those arising from the recommendations of the Royal Commission.

More appropriate and timely information sharing in the family violence context will improve the accuracy of risk assessments and strengthen efforts to prevent further harm to victims as well as assist to keep perpetrators 'in view' and accountable.

6. How many incidents of sexual exploitation of children in out-of-home care occurred during 2015?

The Government committed $16 million in its first 100 days in office to increase staff in standard residential care units, including stand-up overnight staff and for the first time, $1.5 million for spot audits of residential care facilities.

The 2016-17 Victorian Budget provides $35.9 million over the next two years to continue to expand funding in residential care to provide additional overnight staff and safety plans for all residential care units.

As funded in the 2015-16 Victorian Budget, four specialised child protection workers have been employed to target the sexual exploitation of children in out of home care. These specialised positions have been established for the first time under the Andrews Labor Government.

Incident reporting data is a snapshot in time of allegations made by clients of the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS). They are recorded and remain as incidents regardless of whether further information becomes available to substantiate or disprove an event. Incident reports include disclosures about historic abuse and assault that were alleged to have occurred before a client entered state care.

Category One incidents are the most serious incidents and include incidents such as death of clients, allegations of physical or sexual assault and serious client behavioural issues that impact on client or staff safety. Where there is an allegation, it is met with a strong response that includes medical attention (should this be required), a report to police if it involves an allegation of physical or sexual abuse or a client is a victim of a crime, and counselling and support being offered to all parties.

Incident reporting enables service providers to take prompt corrective-action to protect the wellbeing and safety of clients where necessary and better understand the underlying causes of incidents to prevent their recurrence.

Following legislative changes made early in 2016, all category one incident reports involving a child or young person in out-of-home care, detained in a youth justice facility or in a youth residential centre are provided to the Commission for Children and Young People.

The Andrews Labor Government has directed the DHHS to publish quarterly data relating to Category One incident reports for Child Protection and Family Services on the Department of Health and Human Services website for the first time.

7. Please advise how many instances of absconding from a residential unit have occurred since July 2015.

8. With regard to Category 1 incidents:
- a. how many assaults were a result of the March 2016 riot at the Parkville Youth Justice Centre;
 - b. please categorise the Category 1 incidents between July and December 2015 into the number of assaults per person, and whether they were inmate to inmate, inmate to staff, etc.
 - c. could you provide the breakdown of Category 1 incidents for July to December last year?

(Pages 28-9 of the Families and Children portfolio transcript)

- a. Critical incident report analysis identifies that there was one assault as a result of the 6 March 2016 incidents at the Parkville Youth Justice Centre with only minor injuries.
- b. There were 37 reported Category One critical incident reports categorised as assault reported by Youth Justice Custodial Services between July and December 2015. To determine a breakdown of incidents as requested would require a manual review of each individual client record.
- c. The Andrews Labor Government has directed the Department of Health and Human Services to publish quarterly incident reporting data from quarter three, 2015-16.

Incident reporting data is a snapshot in time of allegations made by clients of the Department of Health and Human Services. They are recorded and remain as incidents regardless of whether further information becomes available to substantiate or disprove an event. Incident reports include disclosures of historic abuse and assault that were alleged to have occurred before a client entered state care.

Following public hearings at the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse, a practice change occurred in mid-2015 that has resulted in all youth justice clients being asked about events prior to being admitted to custody. Following this practice change, there has been an increase in the number of assault incidents reported. These incidents are alleged to have occurred prior to clients entering the custodial setting.

Incident reporting enables service providers to take prompt corrective-action to protect the wellbeing and safety of clients where necessary and better understand the underlying causes of incidents to prevent their recurrence.

Following legislative changes made early in 2016, all category one incident reports involving a child or young person in out-of-home care, detained in a youth justice facility or in a youth residential centre are provided to the Commission for Children and Young People.
