Public hearing on combating public sector corruption and misconduct

The Integrity and Oversight Committee will be holding a public hearing on Monday 24 May 2021, as part of its inquiry into how Victoria's integrity agencies undertake their education and prevention functions to expose and address public sector corruption and misconduct.

A further public hearing will be held on 7 June.

The Committee monitors and reviews the performance of the Independent Broad-based Anti-corruption Commission, the Office of the Victorian Information Commissioner, the Victorian Inspectorate and the Victorian Ombudsman.

"Groups who have made a submission to the Committee's inquiry will be asked to talk about their submission, research and experience," the Committee Chair, Steve McGhie MP said.

"We know the integrity agencies are central to prevention, behavioural change and enforcement and hearing from a wide range of stakeholders and experts will highlight what can be done to reduce the incidence of corruption and wrongdoing."

Under the terms of reference for the inquiry, the Committee is considering how well Victoria's integrity agencies are working to educate the Victorian public sector and community about the impacts of corruption and misconduct, how the risks can be reduced and how the agencies can best respond.
