Submission:

I strongly oppose extending the use of school bus transport to the general public. My children have used rural school buses for the last 18 years and have always experienced buses at full to overflowing capacity. It is imperative that their twice daily travel is as safe as possible and this is threatened if the general public travel amongst children from age 5 upward. Obviously it could be a means for child molesters and the likes to gain access to a large number of children in a crowded environment. Horrific idea.
