Submission:

Regional School Bus services regularly have a commute of over an hour. Children are often dropped a significant distance from home. Having been one of these children previously.

I hold grave concerns such expansion would offer for adults to groom children during the bus ride and then extend their contact after the bus has departed.

The onus on bus drivers would be excessive to operate safely whilst also guarding against such extended regular trips of familiarity that regional school bus services present.

I find the proposal staggering in this day and age.
