YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

Mine is a simple submission / suggestion.

I strongly believe that any religious organization that are not taxed should be contributing to the homeless solution in a bigger way than they currently do. There are so many churches and church buildings that can be utilised for immediate temporary housing of rough sleepers!

If the organizations do not commit to a regulated minimal level of service then they should be taxed and that money should be used specifically for providing housing / employment solutions.

I recently saw a show on organizations building tiny homes for those in need. This could provide training opportunities for the unemployed and truly generate a community approach to the solution. Similar to how the Bendigo Building Society back in the gold rush days organized housing for mining families

Obviously there would need to be a committee to run this but the committee should be active and run similar to the new National committee that replaced COAG. People prepared to make decisions and act on those decisions at each state level.
