YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

For the safety of my children and I, I would like my name kept out of this submission. My ex partner is violent and a registered sex offender, something I am privileged enough to be aware of. Since leaving gaol for sex crimes he has offended again and now moved from his place of residence without informing the police supervising him. This could be to any state in Australia. Asking criminals with mental health issues (anyone committing sex offences particularly against children obviously has mental health issues) to regulate their own behaviour and do themselves in is setting them and our society up for failure. Support them to do better and protect everyone by setting boundaries and ensuring people are accountable for their offences by making the register public. This will act as a deterrent and provide the information necessary for people to make informed decisions around who they have in their lives and around their children.

Are you interested in appearing before the committee in person to talk about your submission?
