YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

Hello,

I have been living in Canada the last few years so saw first hand the benefits of legalisation. It is a medicine with huge range of benefits for people across a wide demographic. It also makes sense from a financial perspective to save money on policing and the government taking tax revenue from a plant that many people already personally use but have to access through questionable means. It just makes sense.

Do you have any additional comments or suggestions?:

The main health issue in Canada was edibles such as cookies or gummy bears being consumed by children or animals. These products need appropriate dosages on packaging and warning labels.
