YOUR SUBMISSION

Submission:

To the committee ,

I smoke marijuana occasionally for recreational purposes. I do not know the official stance on its health benefits or consequences but it seems fine to me. To push that point further, why is there so much information about why marijuana is healthy or at least not dangerous, but nothing about why it is unhealthy and dangerous? Shouldn't this decision be made by health facts rather than public opinion? I don't touch ice, cigarettes, cocaine because the facts are just so massively stacked up against them. Shouldn't the same thing be happening regarding the legals of marijuana, shouldn't it be like "marijuana is illegal because it causes brain damage and liver failure" or something like that?

Conclusion: I am pro the complete legalization of marijuana until proven otherwise.
