Submission.

Dear Parliamentary Commission,

How can we have such an enquiry without seriously examining our paper ballot system?

Our voting system uses paper ballots which we (the voters) mark with a Grey Lead pencil. Which can be rubbed out and changed at any polling Station.

Apparently we cannot have trust in Social Media, however, we must have outright trust that electoral commission workers would not use a rubber to change our vote which is marked with a pencil.

How preposterous!

Yours Sincerely

Kenneth McLeod
