Dear Committee Members,

I write this short e-mail to urge you to reject AGL's proposal to install a floating gas ship in Westernport Bay.

In times of escalating climate change AGL is negligent in continuing to develop fossil fuels. Furthermore the mangrove wetlands of Westernport Bay store carbon and should be protected.

As a student of Monash University Botany Department in 1972 I studied the mangrove wetlands at Tooradin. It was an eye-opener to study that ecosystem. Please preserve it.

As an AGL client I wrote to its CEO last year about this proposed development. I received no response. He's a hidden man and it was very difficult to get an address to write to. I now believe AGL to be irresponsible and callous so I have cancelled my contract with them.

Yours sincerely,

Ross Findlay.
