ANSWERS TO CONSTITUENCY QUESTIONS

Answers have been incorporated in the form supplied by the departments on behalf of the appropriate ministers.

Tuesday, 17 March 2015

Essendon electorateQuestion 65

Question asked by: Member for Essendon
Directed to: Minister for Police
Asked on: 24 February 2015

REPLY:

I am advised that:

I had the opportunity to visit the Flemington Police Station on 11 March 2015 with the Member for Essendon. I would like to thank the Station Commander, Acting Inspector Steve Kehagias, and the officers at the Station as well as local community leaders for speaking with me about their experiences.

The Flemington Police Station provides a 24-hour response to the community. Police officers are committed to responding to the diverse needs of the community in a professional and respectful manner.

Victoria Police is committed to strengthening the relationship between local police and local communities through a range of local and corporate initiatives, including:

- cultural competency training for police members;
- community engagement functions and events;
- Multicultural Liaison Officer program;
- the administration for the Police and Community Advisory Committee (PACMAC);
- the Victoria Police Multi-Faith Council; and
- the New and Emerging Community Liaison Officer (NECLO) program.

The NECLO at Flemington Police Station plays a key role in breaking down barriers between police and new and emerging communities in the area. The NECLO is instrumental in co-ordinating a range of local initiatives including the Food & Culture Project which involves the Horn of Africa community members attending the police station to share food every 6 weeks and Operation Asmara, a monthly operation which consists of uniform members being accompanied by Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD) Elders to engage with youth and the community within the vicinity of the Flemington high rise estate.

These initiatives demonstrate the commitment of the Flemington Police Station to continuing to strengthen relationships with the local community.

I note the commitment of the Member for Essendon in ensuring that Victoria Police and members of the community continue to have confidence in each other. I commend him for his work in continuing to promote strong relationships in Flemington.

South-West Coast electorateQuestion 85

Question asked by: Member for South-West Coast
Directed to: Minister for Health
Asked on: 26 February 2015

REPLY:

I am informed that:

Commencing this year, Easter Sunday and Grand Final Friday will be declared public holidays.

Preparation of a Regulatory Impact Statement - which includes a community engagement period - is currently underway for these public holidays, and will be completed prior to Grand Final Friday 2015.

The Statement will provide quantitative and qualitative analysis of the benefits and costs of the two new public holidays.

Employees who are required to work on Easter Sunday will benefit from an increased penalty rate, rising from the ordinary Sunday rate to a public holiday penalty rate.

I can understand the Member's concern for the financial sustainability of health services and the system more widely given the $1 billion in cuts sustained by the health budget over the past four years.

I can also confirm the Member's statement that the government supports the retention of appropriate penalty rates in the state of Victoria and that this remains government policy, despite the moves of some, namely his Liberal colleagues in Canberra and perhaps closer to home, to remove them from agreements and workplace arrangements.

I can assure the Member that any additional funding required to support public health and aged care services to meet the costs of these additional public holidays is subject to the Government's consideration during the 2015-16 Budget process.

The Easter Sunday public holiday will be introduced via a notice in the Government Gazette, allowing Victorian businesses to put in place their trading arrangements and to organise employee rosters.

Mildura electorateQuestion 91

Question asked by: Member for Mildura
Directed to: Minister for Health
Asked on: 26 February 2015

REPLY:

I am informed that:

- The Victorian Patient Transport Assistance Scheme does provide the per kilometre fuel subsidy rate if a chauffeured hire car is used as taxi travel.
- Taxi services can also offer personalised pick-up when travelling to the airport. In addition, there is the Multi Purpose Taxi Program and the Wheelchair Accessible Taxis program in metropolitan and regional areas.
