- 16 HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR'S SPEECH—Mr Speaker reported that the House had, that day, attended His Excellency the Governor in the Legislative Council Chamber, when His Excellency was pleased to make a Speech to both Houses of Parliament, which speech was as follows:

MR PRESIDENT AND HONOURABLE MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL;

MR SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY:

On 2 March 1985 the people of Victoria confirmed that they wished to see the Government they had overwhelmingly elected three years previously continue to govern.

Three years ago today, Labor was called to office by the people of Victoria with a pledge to ensure honesty and integrity in government, and to revive the State's shattered economy.

Now, after three years, it is clear that that pledge has been honoured. Government in this State once again enjoys the respect of the people, and Victoria is now leading the nation's economic recovery.

In the weeks leading up to the election, my Government put to the people of Victoria an ambitious and detailed program for the development of this State. That program combined many specific policies in all areas of government with a clear vision for the future of Victoria and its people—a vision founded equally in prosperity and social justice.

The achievement of these goals over the next four years will require a vigorous and imaginative government—a government that combines sound management with a strong sense of compassion and that will govern in partnership with all of the people of Victoria. My Government has been and will continue to be such a Government.

The people of Victoria have now clearly endorsed both the programs and direction that the Government put to it at the recent election. My Government therefore now has not only a mandate, but indeed the most serious responsibility, to carry out its promised commitments fully and speedily.

Across virtually every portfolio area of government, innovative programs are planned for the next four years. The goal for each is simple: the more efficient and effective delivery of services in the context of tightly controlled government expenditures.

I am pleased now to outline just some of the major features of the legislative program which my Government will introduce over the next four years.

In its first term of office, my Government pursued two simple but overriding economic priorities—to revive the State's economy, and to create jobs and economic growth for the benefit of all Victorians. The Victorian Economic Strategy, released in April 1984 and carried forward in the 1984–85 Budget, laid the groundwork for secure, long-term economic growth in the decade ahead.

By a combination of positive policies and long-term planning, extensive reform of public sector economic and financial management and by working in partnership with the community, Victoria has become Australia's strongest and fastest-growing economy.

Victoria now has the nation's highest job growth rate and its lowest rate of unemployment. Economic and investment growth in Victoria tops all States. Industrial disputes have been dramatically reduced and inflation cut by half. The Victorian housing industry is the most buoyant in Australia and confidence in the future is evident in the upsurge of investment.

My Government has already moved quickly to consolidate and extend major improvements achieved in public sector administration during its first term. During the past three years the Government was able to reduce the number of Ministerial Departments from 32 to 27, which included the establishment of the Departments of Conservation, Forests and Lands, and Planning and Environment. In the first weeks of its new term the Government has acted to reduce this number to 24 by further rationalization of departmental functions.

This process will continue as necessary and further changes can be expected over the next four years.

The Economic Strategy

The Economic Strategy was the first of its kind for a State Government. It sets out a ten-year plan for the achievement of sustained economic and employment growth through increasing the competitiveness of Victorian industry. It proposes measures to improve competitiveness generally and to promote economic development in specific identified areas of competitive strength, in a manner consistent with the preservation of Victoria's unique natural environment.

In its second term, a fundamental task for my Government will be to see the Economic Strategy further implemented. The Government will continue to emphasise—

- policies which generate maximum employment and investment growth in the private sector, with support where appropriate from the public sector;
- maintenance of an economic and industrial climate conducive to business and investor confidence. This is to be achieved by reducing labour on-costs and other business costs, making government more efficient and effective, selectively providing assistance to industry to enhance its national and international competitiveness, and further improving relationships between government, business and unions; and
- funding of initiatives by redeployment of resources from less beneficial programs, with the aim of maintaining restraint in expenditure and taxation.

Employment

Over the past three years, my Government's economic policies have been aimed at maximizing employment in Victoria. Strong employment growth is now the norm. The Government will continue to pursue a mix of policies aimed at further reducing unemployment.

In the 22 months since the economic recovery began, Victoria's employment has grown by 6.2 per cent compared with 4.8 per cent for the rest of Australia. In its first term the Government provided direct assistance to unemployed people complementing its capital expenditure programs.

The Government has also introduced a range of reforms to improve the apprenticeship system and to provide more opportunities for apprentices in the private and public sectors.

The introduction of permanent part-time work in the public service and teaching services has been a key reform to provide more flexible working conditions.

Youth Guarantee

In the second term of office, my Government will focus its energies on providing new opportunities for youth. Employment of young people aged 15 to 19 grew by 14.4 per cent between April 1983 and December 1984. The Government has, therefore, taken the unprecedented step of guaranteeing that by the end of its second term of office, all young people aged 15 to 18 will have the option of full-time work, full-time education, full-time training or an acceptable and structured arrangement for education, training and work.

In addition the Government will develop a series of integrated measures and reforms to increase the supply of long-term permanent jobs, to increase the attractiveness and relevance of full-time education and give young people greater access to the existing stock of jobs.

Workers Compensation

A significant improvement in the competitive position of Victorian firms will be achieved through reform of the Workers Compensation System. As a result, a substantial increase in business investment in the State can be expected.

The existing workers compensation arrangements fail to meet the needs of injured or ill employees in spite of being extremely expensive for employers. There is little emphasis on accident prevention and rehabilitation, and there are long delays.

The new Workers Compensation scheme will require extensive legislation and is one of the highest priorities for my Government. The scheme aims to reduce the number of industrial accidents by 10 per cent and maintain the cost of claims at current costs. Employers will pay much lower premiums, without a reduction in benefits.

Underpinning the reforms to the Workers Compensation legislation are, firstly, the provision of a comprehensive State-wide program to prevent the occurrence of occupational injury and disease and, secondly, the provision of facilities which will enable employees who suffer injury and disease to receive prompt and adequate rehabilitation.

To establish a comprehensive State-wide program of prevention, the Government will introduce significant occupational health reforms through the enactment of occupational health and safety legislation.

The occupational health reforms will be directed towards minimizing the number of accidents in the workplace. However, when accidents do occur the Government is determined that a comprehensive occupational rehabilitation system be provided to enable the affected employee to return to work in the shortest possible period.

Industry, Technology and Resources

A key development in the implementation of the Government's Economic Strategy is the creation of a Ministry of Industry, Technology and Resources which brings together the previous Departments of Industry, Commerce and Technology and Minerals and Energy.

From the beginning of 1985-86, the Government will begin to phase out assistance under the former policies for decentralization.

The Government has now put in place a new set of Regional and Industry policies that specifically focus on small business and are aimed at assisting firms to grow and diversify. Priority has been given to introducing adjustment assistance and new assistance packages to improve the competitiveness of country firms and increase their opportunities for growth.

In respect of the State's manufacturing industry, in the coming year the Government will be placing particular emphasis on encouraging the development of new industries based on new technologies. Victoria possesses first rate scientific and technological research skills that can make the State the advanced technology centre of South East Asia.

The Department of Minerals and Energy has been merged into the new Department of Industry, Technology and Resources to put into effect the Government's commitment to promote the optimum development of Victoria's resources for the long-term benefit of the community and the creation of new employment opportunities.

Over the next four years the Government will—

- establish new industries using brown coal and electricity to give new drive to the Latrobe Valley and Victorian economies;
- complete the Loy Yang A Power Station, producing a 50 per cent increase in generating power in the Latrobe Valley;
- make plans for the construction of the Loy Yang B Power Station, with a decision likely later in the year;
- construct a new power connection with South Australia;
- connect Warrnambool to the first on-shore natural gas field to come on stream in Victoria, and build the Kyneton to Wandong natural gas pipeline to secure natural gas supplies for Bendigo and Ballarat;
- streamline the basis for oil and gas exploration on-shore with a new Petroleum Act, and conduct an overseas mission to attract new interest in our offshore areas.

Also within the Department, an Office of Regulation Review is shortly to become fully operational. Assisted by an expert Advisory Committee and with access to tripartite consultative arrangements, this office will begin the major task of overhauling and weeding out superfluous regulations that impose unnecessary costs on business and affect the efficiency of Government. An important initial task will be to address anomalies in shop trading hours.

Industrial Relations

Of direct benefit to business, industry and the wider community has been the Government's success in dramatically cutting the number of industrial disputes in Victoria. The number of days lost per employee is now over 40 per cent lower than for Australia as a whole. The Ministerial Industrial Relations Task Force, set up during the Government's first term, will continue its valuable work. Further benefits can be expected to flow from the Government's decision to bring together in one Department the management of industrial affairs, employment and occupational health and safety issues. This will ensure a more effectively integrated approach to the labour market.

Taxes and Charges

At the beginning of its first term, my Government faced extraordinary difficulties. Over many years, the State's tax base had been eroded and it was necessary to follow a Budgetary strategy which at the same time stimulated the economy and restored financial viability to the State. Many difficult decisions were taken and the State's finances are now on a very much firmer footing.

In the present term—as in the past—the Government will seek to keep increases in State taxes and charges to a minimum. To achieve this it will continue to restrict tightly departmental recurrent expenditure, while attempting to give maximum assistance to the less well-off in the State. More precisely, the Government will ensure that over the next four years, there will be no increase in the real tax burden. This means that any growth in taxation receipts over the next four years will come only through increases in the inflation rate and economic activity. Efforts will be made to implement further tax cuts. Prices for electricity, gas and MMBW water will also rise by no more than the inflation rate.

Social Justice

The Government is now well-placed to put additional emphasis on the difficult social issues which confront us. Across a range of Ministries there will be co-ordinated policy strategies to ensure not only a better standard and delivery of services, but greater equity and fairness.

Health

The Government places a high priority on continuing improvement to health services. During its first term of office the Health budget increased by more than 50 per cent. Particular emphasis will be placed on substantial improvements to our public hospital system. A priority commitment is an all-out assault on the problem of waiting lists in public hospitals for elective surgery.

Hospitals

During the first term, the Hospital Development Plan was drawn up, establishing a capital works program which will reform and improve hospital facilities and services throughout the State.

In the next four years the Government will ensure that the planned building and upgrading of facilities proceeds on time and within budget. The Hospital Development Plan includes—

- completion of the Queen Victoria Medical Centre by November 1986;
- improvement of hospital services in the southern and eastern suburbs including completion of building programs at Frankston and Maroondah Hospitals;
- development of new hospitals at Sale and Bright;
- increased funding to technology and research;
- up-grading of critical care country hospitals and paediatric services.

Aged Services

My Government is committed to providing a full range of integrated services for the aged, through co-ordination at all levels of government—Commonwealth, State and local government.

The provision of nursing home beds will be increased in areas of greatest need and a State Aged Care Task Force has been established to help hospitals and community groups in high need areas to obtain nursing home and hostel beds. Up to 1000 new beds will be developed.

Mental Retardation

The Government will continue the development and expansion of services to allow mentally retarded people to live as normally as possible within the community.

The Government is finalizing a ten year program of de-institutionalization, of which the first major project—the St. Nicholas Hospital—was completed in March 1985. The de-institutionalization program will involve the continuing provision of Community Residential Units.

To complement the de-institutionalization program the range of community support programs will be expanded. These include a range of accommodation options, independent living programs, and employment/training opportunities.

Education

In its first term of office the Government began the task of making the education system in Victoria responsive and relevant to the needs of each child within it and to the requirements of the wider community.

There has been a significant boost in resources for education and a reduction in the industrial turmoil of the previous decade.

In its interim report the Blackburn Committee has pointed to the need for changes in the structures, objectives and curricula of post-compulsory schooling and to the credentials which are available on its completion. The Government will give urgent consideration to these issues on receipt of the final report. During the Government's first term, the retention rate of students in years 11 and 12 of secondary schools has increased. Changes recommended by the Blackburn Committee will consolidate this trend.

The Government is committed to meeting the needs of all students. In order to achieve these objectives the Government has—

- provided $750 000 in 1983–84 to finance a computer education program which will be extended further in primary schools during the next term. Funds will be dramatically increased from the $1 million provided this year to $16 million over the next four years;
- issued guidelines for the development of a literacy and numeracy program and approved additional staff and the sum of $600 000 to develop this program;
- established a pilot program in Music Education which is to form the basis of music education programs in primary schools;
- given formal recognition to the policy of the integration of disabled children into schools by accepting the report of the Ministerial Review of Education Services for the Disabled. The Government will increase the resources available to assist the integration of the disabled into our schools and expand the regional support service.

The School Improvement Plan, which enables schools to evaluate their own educational programs has been introduced into 400 schools. It is expected to be extended to a further 300 schools each year over the next four years.

Changes being introduced in the education system in Victoria are consistent with the Government's economic strategy to increase the skill base of the workforce and improve participation rates—particularly in the post-compulsory section.

Housing

The Government has set a target of at least 12 000 new public housing units during the next four years and will press the Commonwealth Government for an increase in funding support for a target of 15 000 public housing units.

Existing public housing will be further improved through a major Estate Improvement Program.

The "Low Start Loans" new housing scheme will put over 2000 lower-income families into home ownership.

In its first term, the Government achieved a major recovery in the housing industry, with more than 30 000 new homes being built in 1983-84. The Government will continue to consult closely with the housing industry and pursue economic policies to ensure that the housing industry remains buoyant.

New residential tenancy legislation will ensure better and fairer rental housing for low-income tenants. The new Residential Tenancies Bill—the first Australian bill to be expressed in simple English—will be tabled in the first sittings of Parliament and will be available for public comment.

Community Services

The Government has recently established the Department of Community Services and will transfer administration of non-specialist general community support services to the new department. These administrative arrangements will make possible the provision of better integrated services to people in their local community.

Anti-Poverty Program

My Government is committed to ensuring that all Victorians have adequate access to income security and income support services.

The Government will develop a long-term Anti-Poverty Strategy which will identify areas of poverty and will formulate proposals to deal with this serious and growing social problem. As part of the Anti-Poverty Strategy the Government will introduce—

- a Community Credit Program, under Consumer Affairs, aimed at developing and supporting community-based credit organizations (Credit Unions and Co-operatives, Consumer Buying Advisory Services and Bulk-buying Co-operatives). $6 million will be allocated to the Community Credit Program over the next four years;
- a Poverty Action Program, under Community Services, to provide funds for projects which enable low-income people to participate in decision making and to develop new skills. $4 million will be allocated to the Poverty Action Program over the next four years.

Child Welfare

The Government is committed to reducing the number of people in institutional care, including young offenders and children in the care and protection of the State. The move to de-institutionalize will be matched by increasing support for community-based services and facilities.

A number of children's services programs have been transferred from the Health Commission to the newly established Department of Community Services.

Further programs covering non-health services may be transferred following consideration of the Human Services Reports.

Income Security/Concessions

In its first term the Government established a Ministerial review of State Concessions. The Report of this Committee—

- highlighted problems in the State Concessions system;
- described measures taken by the Government to address anomalies and to increase concessions in key areas such as energy in the course of its first term;
- presented a comprehensive list of State concessions including eligibility criteria and budgeting data.

The Government, through the Cabinet Social Development Committee will continue to address key issues in the Concessions system.

The Government also established an income security unit in the Department of Community Services and will continue to use the resources of this unit to encourage the Commonwealth to meet its full income security responsibilities.

Upper House Reform

The Government will introduce measures to reform the Legislative Council of the Parliament in order to give effect to wider representation, the opportunity for thorough review of legislation prior to enactment, and stability of government. The reform package will include—

- an upgraded committee system;
- election by proportional representation in multi-member electorates for the same four year term as the Legislative Assembly;
- removal of the Legislative Council's power to block Supply;
- no increase in the present number of members.

The Government will consult fully with all relevant interest groups on the details of the proportional representation and improved committee system, before introducing appropriate legislation within the next two years.

Commonwealth-State Relations

My Government will take further initiatives in Commonwealth-State relations to encourage the development of the federal system in a way that is appropriate for Australia in the 1980s, based on the same principles of accountability and responsiveness of government which successfully guided its reforms of the Victorian public sector during its first term of office. In particular, my Government will work to achieve revenue redistribution arrangements between the Commonwealth and the States based on those principles. It will represent all Victorians at the Tax summit with a view to achieving a tax system at all levels of government which meets the accepted criteria of equity, efficiency and simplicity, and which ensures a reduced tax burden for Victorians, generally.

Deaths of Ministers and Members

It is with deep regret that I refer to the deaths, since you were last called together, of former Ministers of the Crown, the Honourable W. R. Dawnay-Mould, the Honourable J. J. Ginifer, the Honourable Sir William C. Haworth, the Honourable S. Merrifield, the Honourable T. W. Mitchell, the Honourable J. J. Sheehan, and of former Members of Parliament, E. E. Bond esq., J. L. Cremean esq., K. F. King esq., J. R. McClure esq., W. F. L. Reese esq., R. H. Suggett esq., and the Honourable A. P. Van Vliet.

Mr Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly:

A Supply Bill to make provision for ongoing Government expenditure for the first five months of the financial year 1985-86 will be presented to you at an early stage of the present Session of Parliament.

Mr President and Honourable Members of the Legislative Council;

Mr Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly:

It is obvious from all that I have said that my Government has a very vigorous and far-sighted program for the betterment of this State and its people. Only some of this program has been mentioned here. In a range of portfolios—Transport, Agriculture, Consumer Affairs, Ethnic Affairs, Aboriginal Affairs, Police and Emergency Services to name but a few—new initiatives are planned to realise the objectives set by my Government for the next four years.

Certainly, much has already been achieved, but much remains to be done.

My Government is pledged to carry out the clear mandate of the people of Victoria to build upon the achievements of its first term. With its mandate from the people renewed and re-invigorated, my Government will provide strong leadership and continue to strive for a prosperous and progressive State. It will work to secure for all Victorians, and particularly for our young people, a more just and equitable society.

I now formally open this Parliament and pray that the guidance of Almighty God may attend on your deliberations.

Melbourne, 3002

Dear Mr Speaker

The statute relating to the Victorian Institute of Marine Sciences provides for Governor in Council appointment of, among others, three Members of Parliament to the governing Council of the Institute. Members are recommended for appointment as an outcome of a joint sitting of the Legislative Council and the Legislative Assembly conducted in accordance with the rules adopted for the purpose by the Members present at the sitting.

The three Members of Parliament currently appointed are:

- Mr B. Evans, MP
- The Hon. W. V. Houghton, MLC and
- Mr G. Stirling, MP

Their terms of appointment expire on 1 March 1986.

However, the Hon. W. V. Houghton retires from Parliament on 15 July and as a consequence, it is necessary to appoint a Member in his stead for the balance of the three year term.

Accordingly, I would be grateful if you could arrange for such a joint sitting to recommend a Member for appointment to the vacancy for the period 16 July 1985 to 1 March 1986, under the terms of the Victorian Institute of Marine Sciences Act, 1974 No. 8607.

Yours sincerely

Joan E. Kirner
Minister for Conservation, Forests and Lands

24 April 1985

(1) After section 49 of the Principal Act there shall be inserted the following section:

'49A. (1) At an election where more than one councillor is to be elected the result of the poll shall be ascertained by the returning officer in accordance with this section.

(2) In this section—

“Continuing candidate” means a candidate not already elected or excluded from the count.

“Quota” means the number determined by dividing the total number of first preference votes by 1 more than the number of candidates required to be elected and by increasing the quotient so obtained (disregarding any remainder) by 1.

“Surplus votes” means the number, if any, of votes in excess of the quota of each elected candidate.

(3) In this section, a reference to votes of or obtained or received by a candidate includes votes obtained or received by the candidate on any transfer under this section.

(4) The returning officer upon receipt of the several sealed parcels from any presiding officer and with the assistance of such officers as the returning officer deems necessary and in the presence and subject to the inspection of any one scrutineer, if present, appointed by each candidate but of no other person shall—

(a) open all the sealed parcels containing used ballot-papers;

(b) arrange such ballot-papers together with the allowed postal ballot-papers, if any, by placing in a separate parcel all those on which a first preference is indicated for the same candidate and preference votes are also duly given or deemed to be given for all the remaining candidates, omitting ballot-papers which require to be rejected; and

(c) ascertain—

(i) the number of first preference votes given for each candidate; and

(ii) the total number of all such votes.

(5) A quota shall be determined.

(6) Any candidate who has received a number of first preference votes equal to or greater than the quota shall by the returning officer be declared duly elected.

(7) Unless all the vacancies have been filled, the surplus votes of each elected candidate shall be transferred to the continuing candidates as follows:

(a) The number of surplus votes of the elected candidate shall be divided by the number of first preference votes received by the elected candidate and the resulting fraction shall be the transfer value;

- (b) The total number of ballot-papers of the elected candidate that express the first preference vote for the elected candidate and the next available preference for a particular continuing candidate shall be multiplied by the transfer value;
- (c) The number obtained under paragraph (b) (disregarding any fraction) shall be added to the number of first preference votes of the continuing candidate and all those ballot-papers shall be transferred to the continuing candidate.

(8) Any continuing candidate who has received a number of votes equal to or greater than the quota on the completion of any transfer under sub-section (7) shall by the returning officer be declared duly elected.

(9) Unless all the vacancies have been filled, the surplus votes, if any, of any candidate elected under sub-section (8) or elected subsequently under this sub-section shall be transferred to the continuing candidates in accordance with sub-section (7) and any continuing candidate who has received a number of votes equal to or greater than the quota on the completion of the transfer shall by the returning officer be declared duly elected.

(10) Where a continuing candidate has received a number of votes equal to or greater than the quota on the completion of a transfer of the surplus votes of a particular elected candidate under sub-section (7) or (9) no votes of any other candidate shall be transferred to the continuing candidate.

(11) For the purposes of the application of sub-section (7) in relation to a transfer of the surplus votes of an elected candidate under sub-section (9) or (14), each ballot-paper of the elected candidate obtained by the elected candidate on a transfer under this section shall be dealt with as if—

- (a) any vote it expressed for the elected candidate were a first preference vote;
- (b) the name of any other candidate previously elected or excluded had not been on the ballot-paper; and
- (c) the numbers indicating subsequent preferences had been altered accordingly.

(12) Where, after the counting of first preference votes or the transfer of any surplus votes of elected candidates, no candidate has, or less than the number of candidates required to be elected have, received a number of votes equal to the quota, the candidate who has the fewest votes shall be excluded and all that candidate's votes shall be transferred to the continuing candidates as follows:

- (a) The total number of ballot-papers of the excluded candidate that express the first preference vote for the excluded candidate and the next available preference for a particular continuing candidate shall be transferred at a transfer value of 1 for each ballot-paper and added to the number of votes of the continuing candidate and all those ballot-papers shall be transferred to the continuing candidate;
- (b) The total number, if any, of other votes obtained by the excluded candidate on transfers under this section shall be transferred from the excluded candidate in the order of the transfers on which the excluded candidate obtained them, the votes obtained on the earliest transfer being transferred first, as follows:
 - (i) The total number of ballot-papers transferred to the excluded candidate from a particular candidate and expressing the next available preference for a particular continuing candidate shall be multiplied by the transfer value at which the votes were so transferred to the excluded candidate;
 - (ii) The number so obtained (disregarding any fraction) shall be added to the number of votes of the continuing candidate; and
 - (iii) All those ballot-papers shall be transferred to the continuing candidate.

(13) Any continuing candidate who has received a number of votes equal to or greater than the quota on the completion of a transfer of votes of an excluded candidate under sub-section (12) or (16) shall by the returning officer be declared duly elected.

(14) Subject to sub-section (15), unless all the vacancies have been filled the surplus votes, if any, of a candidate elected under sub-section (13) shall be transferred in accordance with sub-section (7).

(15) Where a candidate elected under sub-section (13) is elected before all the votes of the excluded candidate have been transferred, the surplus votes, if any, of the elected candidate shall not be transferred until the remaining votes of the excluded candidate have been transferred in accordance with sub-section (12) to continuing candidates.

(16) Subject to sub-section (18), where after the transfer of all the votes of an excluded candidate no continuing candidate has received a number of votes greater than the quota—

(a) the continuing candidate who has the fewest votes shall be excluded; and

(b) that candidate's votes shall be transferred in accordance with sub-section (12).

(17) Where a candidate is elected as a result of a transfer of—

(a) the first preference votes of an excluded candidate; or

(b) all the votes of an excluded candidate that were transferred to the excluded candidate from a particular candidate—

no other votes of the excluded candidate shall be transferred to the candidate so elected.

(18) In respect of the last vacancy for which two continuing candidates remain, the continuing candidate who has the larger number of votes shall be elected notwithstanding that that number is below the quota and if those candidates have an equal number of votes the returning officer shall have a casting vote but shall not otherwise vote at the election.

(19) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, where the number of continuing candidates is equal to the number of remaining unfilled vacancies those candidates shall by the returning officer be declared duly elected.

(20) Subject to sub-sections (21) and (23), where after any count or transfer under this section, 2 or more candidates have surplus votes the order of any transfers of the surplus votes of those candidates shall be in accordance with the relative sizes of the surplus, the largest surplus being transferred first.

(21) Subject to sub-section (23), where after any count or transfer under this section, 2 or more candidates have equal surpluses, the order of any transfers of the surplus votes of those candidates shall be in accordance with the relative numbers of votes of those candidates at the last count or transfer at which each of those candidates had a different number of votes, the surplus of the candidate with the largest number of votes at that count or transfer being transferred first.

(22) For the purposes of sub-section (21), if there has been no such count or transfer the returning officer shall determine the order in which the surpluses shall be dealt with.

(23) Where after any count or transfer under this section, a candidate obtains surplus votes, those surplus votes shall not be transferred before the transfer of any surplus votes obtained by any other candidate on an earlier count or transfer.

(24) Where the candidate who has the fewest votes is required to be excluded and 2 or more candidates each have the fewest votes, whichever of those candidates had the fewest votes at the last count or transfer at which each of those candidates had a different number of votes shall be excluded.

(25) For the purposes of sub-section (24), if there has been no such count or transfer the returning officer shall determine which candidate shall be excluded.

(26) Where a candidate is elected by reason that—

(a) the number of first preference votes received by the candidate; or

(b) the aggregate of first preference votes received by the candidate and all other votes obtained by the candidate on transfers under this section—is equal to the quota, all the ballot-papers expressing those votes shall be set aside as finally dealt with.

- (27) For the purposes of this section—
- (a) a transfer under sub-section (7), (9) or (14) of all the surplus votes of an elected candidate;
 - (b) a transfer in accordance with sub-section (12) (a) of all first preference votes of an excluded candidate; or
 - (c) a transfer in accordance with sub-section (12) (b) of all the votes of an excluded candidate that were transferred to that candidate from a particular candidate—each constitutes a separate transfer.’.

(2) In section 50 of the Principal Act sub-sections (3) to (8) shall be repealed.

(3) After section 50 of the Principal Act there shall be inserted the following sections:

“50A. (1) If on the day of the poll the count of the votes by the returning officer cannot be completed the returning officer shall adjourn the count and inform the scrutineers and the officers appointed to assist the returning officer at the count as regards the time and place when and where the count will be continued and conducted by the returning officer.

(2) The count of the votes may from time to time be adjourned as the returning officer deems necessary until it has been duly completed and each adjournment shall be announced by the returning officer to the scrutineers and the officers assisting the returning officer.

(3) Before every adjournment of the count of the votes—

- (a) all ballot-papers and other documents connected with such count shall be placed in one or more ballot-boxes; and
- (b) the returning officer shall in the presence of such scrutineers and officers as are present seal such ballot-box or boxes and before recommencing the count the seal on such ballot-box or boxes shall be exhibited unbroken to such of the scrutineers and officers as are present.”.

“50B. (1) The returning officer shall as soon as conveniently may be on or after the day of the poll publicly declare the name or names of the candidate or candidates elected and specify how the result was obtained in each case.

(2) Any candidate named under sub-section (1) shall subject to the provisions of this Act and the Local Government Act 1958 be deemed to be then duly elected and the returning officer shall forthwith publish in some newspaper generally circulating in the neighbourhood the name or names of the councillor or councillors elected.”.

No.1—INTELLECTUALLY DISABLED PERSONS' SERVICES BILL (No. 2)—Clause 5.

Statement of principles.

It is the intention of Parliament that in the administration of this Act and the provision, management, development and planning of services for intellectually disabled persons the following principles are to be given effect to:

- (a) Intellectually disabled persons have the same right as other members of the community to services which support a reasonable quality of life;
- (b) Every intellectually disabled person has a capacity for physical, social, emotional and intellectual development and a right to individualized educational and developmental opportunities and is entitled to exercise maximum control over every aspect of his or her life;
- (c) The welfare of an intellectually disabled person is the first and paramount consideration;
- (d) The needs of intellectually disabled persons are best met when the conditions of their everyday life are the same as, or as close as possible to, norms and patterns which are valued in the general community;
- (e) Services should promote maximum physical and social integration through the participation of intellectually disabled persons in the life of the community;
- (f) Services generally available to all members of the community should be adapted to ensure access by intellectually disabled persons and specialized supplementary services should be provided to the extent required to meet individual needs.
- (g) Services to intellectually disabled persons should be provided in such a manner that an individual need not move out of his or her local community or travel inordinately long distances to receive the services needed;
- (h) Services to intellectually disabled persons should be sufficiently flexible in structure and organization to meet the varying needs of intellectually disabled persons in developing towards independence and to maximize the choices open to them;
- (i) It is in the best interests of intellectually disabled persons and their families that no single organization providing services to intellectually disabled persons exercise control over all or most aspects of an individual's life.
- (j) It is the responsibility of the State of Victoria to plan, fund, ensure the provision of and evaluate services to intellectually disabled persons according to the principles stated herein;
- (k) It is in the interests of intellectually disabled persons and their families for non-government organizations providing services to intellectually disabled persons to continue to play a significant role in direct service delivery.

- (l) The State of Victoria must ensure that government and non-government organizations providing services to intellectually disabled persons are accountable for the extent to which the rights of intellectually disabled persons are advanced and service quality assured;
- (m) Intellectually disabled persons have a legitimate and major role to play in planning and evaluating services;
- (n) When some restriction on the rights or opportunities of an intellectually disabled person is necessary, the means chosen should be the least restrictive of the available alternatives having regard to all the circumstances.

—(Mr Roper)

Amendment proposed—That paragraph (i) be omitted.
